EXPERIENCES

Campari Group | Milan, Italy
Digital Media & Communications Specialist
At Campari Group, I served as a strategic custodian for Galleria Campari, where I focused on synchronizing the brand's historic Futurist artistic legacy with modern digital aesthetics. My role involved orchestrating a complex creative content strategy, which included managing the monthly editorial calendar and newsletter ecosystem to translate historical archives into high-engagement social narratives. Beyond digital storytelling, I managed the end-to-end communication flow for corporate events and institutional delegations, ensuring absolute brand alignment across every touchpoint. My work also extended into specialized botanical research to define the aromatic identity of core ingredients for sensory branding, all while building rigorous performance analytics systems to track engagement and optimize our weekly communication strategies.

Richemont - Michelangelo Foundation | Geneva, Switzerland
Brand & Communications Coordinator
During my time with the Michelangelo Foundation, I focused on operational excellence by managing the logistical and administrative framework for Homo Faber 2024, an initiative that required coordinating international mediation across more than 40 countries for over 50,000 visitors. I was responsible for curating and producing creative content for the Foundation's digital platforms, specifically defining the visual and educational journey for the Young Ambassadors program. My strategic contributions included developing impact surveys and statistical profiles to evaluate the global cultural footprint of our initiatives. Additionally, I acted as a primary liaison for educational programs, representing the Foundation's mission to a global community of master artisans and institutional partners.

Christie's - Jewellery Department | Milan, Italy
Luxury Market & Client Communications
In the Jewelry Department at Christie's, I supported the high-profile "Jewels & Watches: La Dolce Vita" auction, which achieved €1.77M in total sales. My contribution centered on coordinating professional photo shoots to create the premium digital assets and promotional materials necessary for such an event. I conducted deep-dive market intelligence research into High-Net-Worth Individual behavior and luxury trends to inform our targeted communication strategies. Throughout the auction cycle, I was responsible for enforcing uncompromising premium standards to ensure total brand consistency across all client-facing touchpoints and digital catalogs
